Spruce up your garden with the RSP Planter by Nature of Early Play. This planter is made from 100% durable recycled structural plastic that is formed to give off the aesthetic of a wood look but being much more durable and long-lasting. The post consumer plastic which would have otherwise gone directly to a landfill is instead reworked into a dense and waterproof material that can contain the necessary soil and water without any troublesome leaks. The planter has long length options, making it wonderful for containing and displaying several different flowering plants at once. It can even be used as a vegetable garden planter, allowing you to grow several types of plants which can later be eaten. This planter is great for outside use and will house plants for years to come. Choose between lengths of 4-feet or 6-feet.
